This is a letter for Veronica Tingzon. I have known Veronica for the past semester in the Associate Degree in Nursing program at MiraCosta College. As her pharmacology professor I have worked closely with Veronica in lecture and at school meetings.

I have found Veronica to be inquisitive, enthusiastic about learning and a quick learner. She is a self-directed and searches to find the best answers to her questions. When unsure of her knowledge she does not hesitate to seek guidance. Her discussions in class and online were insightful and thorough.

She is responsible and accountable for her actions. She is mature and focused on her learning; her assignments were on time and of high caliber. She was in the top 10% of the class not an easy feat for a complex and large body of knowledge. Veronica's communication both verbally and in writing is clear and professional.

Veronica is intelligent, a hard worker and committed to the nursing profession. I highly recommend her for the student nurse scholarship and believe she will be an asset to the nursing profession. Please do not hesitate to contact me for any questions.
